Attitude of Constitutionalists Taken to Mean End of Conferences.

ENVOY WIRES CAPITAL

ter of Foreign Relations Escu dero Says Intercourse Must Be Official.

Nogales, Nov. 18.-"We have today maked Mr. Hale to present his official credentials from the President of the United States," said Francisco Excedera, Minister of Foreign Relations of the Constitutionalists, in an official statemen tonight. "Beletofore our negotiations with Mr to me, I shall introduce him formally to the other members of Gen. Carranta's Cabinet, and negotiations will then as Cabinet, and negotiations will then as-sume an official character. These creden-tials have not as yet been presented. The fundamental case of the original conference was a token of friendship to Mr. Hale, knowing his former activity in Mexico and through friendship with Mr. Bryan and Mr. Wilson."

Hale Advises Capital.

Hale Advises Capital.

By this and other reliable signs it is believed here that the conferences are about to close without results. Possibly Mr. Escudero's meaning lies in a desire on the part of the Constitutionalist leaders for an official recognition by the United States, such as would be the case in the event of sending a regularly accredited Ambassador.

Mr. Hale wired Washington again today of his conference.
When asked regarding today's negotiations, Mr. Hale maintained his usual selence, sind when told of the statement

Mr. tracket of his conference of the conference is officially stated that Gen, Car-a is preparing a maintento which define their attitude regarding quos-in which their cause is involved, intitutionalist leaders also state that norm in which their cause is involved. Committationalist, leaders also state that iem. Francho Villa sassives them that he well as other officers in the field is a complete accord with the plans and collides of Gen. Curranta the plans and collides of Gen. Curranta would remove just them Gen. Curranta would remove to he South.

same official quarters the belief con-ties to be expressed that Huerta wi-ties to be expressed that Huerta wi-dome, so far as can be learned in shington, to hasten his removat from Presidency of Maxico. The hope of afministration seems to rest upon a sbination of circumstances, including financial situation in Mexico City, the ection of Huerta's European support-and the success of the revolutionists, brough one, or all, of these means sident Wilson and Socretary Bryan hoping that Huerta's downfall will accompilabled.

Nothing Expected from Carranas. There is no doubt here that the present activity of the administration with respect to Mexico is partly due to the displointing results of the negotiations ensed into with Gev. Carranas, through the medium of William Bayard Hale, ough Hale was reported as holding anher conference with Gev. Carranas perfects. It is no necret here that the section.

And. Mr. Hammond added, as an after thought. "few of whom know the difference between a cantalever and a ponsasinorum."
"The bestiting sin of politicians today," he continued, "is their lack of leadership. Their desire for chasp notoristy, which causes them to attempt great things before they have digested facts upon which their actions should be based. A story will illustrate; I recall at inscription on a grave in Massachusetts. Here lies Elban, aged three. She died of indigestion. Thank God, we denied her nothing. This illustrates the body politic today.
